

Elise Esparza, 9 years old

5th Grade

Without the Constitution

We'd be lost

With no rules and no order

It'd be pure chaos

Not one, not two, but three branches of government ensure

That "We the People" are the boss

The legislative branch makes the laws

And the executive branch carries them out

But the judicial branch interprets the laws

And can say, "Hey! That's not what the Constitution is about!"

It's a system of checks and balances

And it's the highest law of the land

The U.S. Constitution of America

Meant to protect every child, woman, and man