LITTLE JEMMY

MISSING!

Lesson Overview:

Youtube Explanation Video

In this lesson, students will gain an understanding of:

- how Shays' rebellion was a factor leading to the creation of a new government
- how the Articles of Confederation governed the United States prior to the Constitution
- when the Constitution was created
- where the Constitution was created
- who wrote the majority of the Constitution
- information about the the 7 Articles of the Constitution
- the Bill of Rights

Mission: Students will work together or individually (but it is more fun together!) to search for “Little Jemmy” a.k.a. James Madison who has been kidnapped by King George III who is trying to stop the Constitution from being written. Students will play the role of an American Revolution veteran who has been working on his farm in the United States following the American Revolution but has seen tension grow in Massachusetts with Shays' Rebellion. As they travel through the game they will answer questions and crack codes until they finally locate King George III in a 360° interactive room!

Materials Needed:

- Internet Access
- Mobile device iPad, laptop computer, desktop computer (if possible I have each student complete the assignment on their own within the group)

Teacher Script:

Well everyone I have some good news and some bad news. The good news is today we are going to travel back in time! The bad news is, the only reason we are traveling back in time is because Little Jemmy has gone missing! Who is Little Jemmy you ask? Only one of the most important people in U.S. History! He has been kidnapped and you and your classmates must track him down or the country as we know it will cease to exist. Anarchy and chaos will be our leaders! Moments like these only come once in a lifetime and today at this very second IS. YOUR. MOMENT!

Intended Class & Level 6-9th grade (but younger and older grades could complete it)

Objective: Students will learn about the 7 Articles of the Constitution and the first 10 Amendments of the Constitution

Lesson: Students will complete an online interactive Escape Room to try and find “Little Jemmy” (James Madison). In order to find him they will have to answer a series of questions that will provide them with knowledge of the Constitution.

Assessment: While students are completing the escape room they will only be able to move on to the next round of questions when they answer questions correctly. All of the material is located within the assignment and little to no prior knowledge is needed. Students will work on reading comprehension, collaboration, teamwork (if working in groups) along with gaining valuable information about the Constitution.

Teachers will also have access to a short post quiz that they can share with their students if they need an extra assessment.

The links provided to the teacher in the materials section will allow them to edit the document and add or take away information to meet the needs of their students.
